Confirmation.com Launches a New Self-Registration Feature for Companies and Banks to Respond to Audit Confirmation Requests

Brentwood, Tenn. – May 10, 2011 – Capital Confirmation, Inc., the creator and world’s leading provider of secure audit confirmation services, announced today the addition of a new self-registration feature that makes it easy for companies and financial institutions to respond to audit confirmation requests through Confirmation.com.

Whether you’re an AR/AP department or a financial institution, the old way of responding to audit confirmation requests is manual, inefficient and doesn’t prevent an employee from intentionally providing false information to an external auditor. With Confirmation.com, any business, institution or organization can control who receives and responds to audit confirmation requests, and with this new feature, registering to become a validated responder now takes less than five minutes and it’s free.

“Because Confirmation.com saves time and provides a more efficient response process, the demand for becoming a validated responder continues to grow at a fast pace,” said Brian Fox, Founder and Chief Marketing Officer of Capital Confirmation, Inc. “This new self-registration feature helps us manage the increased demand and makes the whole on boarding process fast and easy for responders.”

By centralizing the process, businesses of all types can respond to audit confirmation requests faster and more efficiently than ever before. There is no cost to use Confirmation.com as a responder and since it’s a cloud-based solution, no hardware or software is needed. To register as a responder, go to www.confirmation.com, select the New User Registration Sign Up button and follow the onscreen prompts.
